Stephen "Pista" Nasser was 13 years old when the Nazis whisked him and his family away from their homes in Hungary to Auschwitz. His memories of that terrifying experience are still vivid, and his love for his brother Andris still brings a husky tone to his voice when he remembers the terrible ordeal they endured together. Stephen's account of the Holocaust, told in the refreshingly direct and optimistic language of a young boy will help everyone understand that the Holocaust was real, and that if you have enough love, determination, and will power, there is always a better tomorrow.
