Welcome from the Clark County School District Board of School Trustees and Superintendent Walt Rulffes:

FAMILY Enrichment DAY

Together We Can

Thank you for your commitment to the children of Clark County. Your participation in today's Family Enrichment Day is a vital step in creating academic success for all students.

We know parents are their child's first teacher and know their child best. That is why mothers, fathers, and other guardians are an essential link in improving schools and advancing the education of their child.

Studies show that parental involvement is one of the most important factors in raising student self-esteem and academic achievement. Moreover, most experts agree that parental involvement should go beyond attendance at teacher conferences and open houses. We realize, however, that every family is unique – each with its own priorities, talents, and time constraints – so it is our goal to provide as many different opportunities for parental involvement as possible.

The workshops today are focused on providing hands-on experiences that allow families to discover mathematics, reading, writing, and science activities that each can do together to help students succeed at school. In addition, parents will learn how they can help their child pursue opportunities for college or technical education.

Now more than ever we must work together – parents, teachers, students, and administrators – to ensure students have the best possible education.

Thank you for spending your time here today as a vital partner in your child's education.
