

Albertson's SeaWorld Essay Contest

Jacky Guo

5th grade student
Mendoza Elementary School
Winner in Albertson's SeaWorld Essay Contest

Experiment Sodas

Do you like school, because school can be really fun sometimes. My favorite thing about school are the experiments. The best experiment yet is putting mints into two liter bottle of sodas.

Different soda mean different effects but they all had one big thing in common. They all shoot soda into the air when you put mints in them. We used 7UP, coke and diet coke.

When it was my turn I was very nervous. I was afraid I might get wet and sticky. After I got about five pieces of mints in I miss most of them. The soda shot about five feet in the air. The highest was a diet coke. It shot more than six feet in the air.

Looking at soda shooting more than four feet each is awesome. I hope the next experiment is exploding something. If you ever want to try this do it outside or you'll need to mop the floor.